Dedicated to Mr. McGowan

From kindergarten to high school, students encounter numerous teachers, but only a select few will remain embedded in their memories. Mr. McGowan is among the few. Since 1965, he has had a tremendous impact on NAHS students, combining his knowledge with enthusiasm and a sense of humor. Students, unaware of this before knowing him as a teacher, fear Mr. McGowan's difficult curriculum. But once in room 201 (two-ot-one), he adopts them as his children and creates a stimulative environment in which they can thrive, learn, and succeed. Aided by math magazine and magical chalk, "Coach" McGowan trains his students to embrace challenges and work to their potential.

Mr. McGowan shines outside of the classroom, as well. He is always sure to keep up with his students, even after the bell has rung. He inquires about the records of Scarlet Knights teams, spends hours helping his own students after school, and checks to make sure that his old students are still excelling in math class. He even makes an effort to attend North Andover sports events regularly. In addition, Mr. McGowan finds the time to coach North Andover High School's math team, which often earns first place in the league. His efforts are widely recognized and appreciated.

By far one of the most dedicated and commendable teachers North Andover High School has ever seen, Mr. McGowan is loved by both students and faculty members. He epitomizes all that every teacher should strive to be, and has made an unforgettable impression on each person with whom he has ever come into contact.

 ☆ A World of Difference
 Institute Peer Training Program, developed by the ADL, is designed to train high school youth to deliver student-to-student workshops on diversity-related issues. ADL members attended a series of interactive diversity awareness and anti-bias workshops in which they participated in activities on self-identity, language, bias,
 cultural awareness, conflict
 management, and action planning. They then facilitated student-to-student workshops to empower their peers and challenge stereotypes of prejudice in order to create a more inclusive school community.

Under the leadership of Director Mrs. Cotter, assistant Mr. Cotter, and drum majors T.J. Kelly and Bill Phelan, the band has had another awesome year!

Members performed at football games, fall and winter concerts, and in parades, marching competitions, and the All-Town Band Fest. The marching band earned a bronze medal at the MICCA finals. This year's literature included excerpts from the opera Carmen, the Frank Ticheli piece An American Elegy, and Sousa's Stars and Stripes Forever.

The 2001-2002 band received rave reviews from spectators.

Creativity and style light up the pages of Bourbon Red! With submissions of poetry and art from members of each class, our school's literary magazine is a showcase for many of the hidden talents lurking in North Andover High School's wall-less halls. Bourbon Red is collected, edited, and published by a group of dedicated students. This year's main editors include Karen Mercier, Melody Lu, and Katherine Cota. The magazine's wonderfully helpful staff advisor is Miss Pellerin.

Chamber Singers

Chamber Singers, North Andover High School's premier chorus, is made up of students selected from the concert choir through competitive audition. The group focuses on small ensemble skills and performs throughout the community at such places as Edgewood Retirement Home and local elementary schools. This year's selections included the Pan-African national anthem, N'kosi Sikelel' i Africa, O Vos Omnes, and Ride the Chariot.

Members of the Concert Choir come from all walks of life and all parts of the school; the only requirements are dedication and a love for music. The choir performs at school concerts, many school and community events, and also sings the Star-Spangled Banner at some sporting events. Concert selections this year included works by composers John Phillip Sousa and Samuel Barber as well as many Latin and Afro-Cuban pieces like E Oru O, La Lluvia, and Salmo 150. Concer Choir is under the direction of Mr. Cotter and is led by President Nova Quinn, Vice President Dan Napoline, Secretary Cynthia Walker, and Treasurer Wes Napoline.

In the winter, Drama Guild put on "The Wiz," a musical, with the help of the pit orchestra. The G.L.E.C. (Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative) leadership program involves six schools: Andover, Greater Lawrence Tech., Haverhill, Lawrence, Methuen, and North Andover. The goals of this program are to develop leadership skills and communication, to create friendships and understanding among schools, and to identify issues of common concern and bring about positive change.

Activities in which G.L.E.C. had participated include the Three Rivers Clean-up, the school exchange, and a book drive.

At North Andover High, some students come together to form a group called G.S.A. The Gay-Straight Alliance is a place where gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender (GLBT) students and their straight counterparts unite to promote tolerance and acceptance in school and throughout the community. Each week, we come together in order to encourage an alliance between GLBT and straight students. During our meetings we organize fun events and discuss today's important issues to further support GLBT students.

The group played at the Spring and Winter Concerts, as well as at the local elementary schools and other places in the community. The focus of this year's group was development of sight-reading and jazz improvisation. The Jazz Band also took a trip to see the Woody Herman Band and listen to a masterclass by its members. Some of this year's selections included Count Basie's April in Paris, Dizzy Gillespie's Manteca, and Dave Brubeck's Blue Rondo a la Turk.

The Math Team's first meet takes place in early October. The season continues with weekly practices and monthly competitions, and concludes with either the home meet in March or the State Meet later on in the spring. North Andover High School's Math Team typically competes against schools such as St. John's Prep, Austin Prep, Andover High, and Haverhill High. Mr. McGowan prepares team members for challenging questions in the fields of algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. North Andover is always extremely successful in the team round. This year's enthusiastic bunch is led by co-captains Liz Middleton and Marco Sideri.

The purpose of the Multicultural Club is to spread an understanding and awareness of diverse cultures and traditions. In our attempt to promote harmony and the tolerance of differences, club members hold a myriad of activities such as discussions pertaining to issues that affect multicultural youth today. The Multicultural Club, in addition to serving the community, keeps the school up-to-date with cultural events taking place in the area and opportunities for multicultural youth.

The Pathways school-to-career program allows students to explore vocational opportunities in a community-based way. Career counselor Mrs. Mesquita guides students through mentoring, internships, job shadows, in-school employment opportunities, and part-time competitive employment in order to help them explore career options. Vocational counseling and post-high school planning prepare students for life after graduation. This year, many students were able to take advantage of work-study positions. Business-education partnerships were formed with over 300 local businesses and resources. Pathways participants develop an excellent work ethic as well as necessary skills for success in the work world of work.

The National Honor Society this year was better than ever before. Led by President Juliann Chmielecki, Vice President Lauren Dickerson, Secretary Anne Bider, and Treasurer Ashley Wentworth, N.H.S. was extremely eager to continue the traditions of service, leadership, character, and scholarship. At the end of the 2000-2001 school year, National Honor Society coordinated its first Senior Farewell for its departing members. We spent the summer collecting money for the Jimmy Fund at the Lawrence theaters. The 2001-2002 school year was kicked off with our annual November blood drive and was followed by a successful March blood drive. This year, approximately 240 pints of blood were collected and an excess of 840 lives were saved. National Honor Society also served refreshments and snacks at many monthly faculty meetings. In addition, we continued to sponsor a Childreach child. Members have also taken on responsibilities such as home tutoring, Kids' Stop, individual service projects, and coordination of the annual induction ceremony for newly elected N.H.S. members. We look forward to the Johnson Chapter of the N.H.S. performing above all expectations in the future.

The S.A.V.E.

(Students Against Violence Everywhere) group is led by Officer Tracey Castiglione and meets weekly to discuss pertinent issues. S.A.V.E. also coordinates events in an attempt to educate teens about violence. The group has organized projects such as "The Yellow Dress" and The Clothesline Project. Both events taught North Andover High School students about the lasting and painful effects of abuse and domestic violence.

The Spirit Club is run under the enthusiastic leadership of co-advisors Miss D'Alessandro and Miss Pellerin. This fall, the group organized the annual semi-formal, which was held at Angelica's Restaurant in Middleton, MA. With big, red trolleys for transportation and music from Jam'n 94.5 FM, the dance was a major success. The dedication of seniors Kara Fili and Sheri Doucette also helped to make this event special for the freshman and sophomore classes.

The much anticipated Pep Rally was also an overwhelming hit. Sporting bright, torn, t-shirts, acid-washed jeans, and big hair, the students danced to such 80's classics as Nasty Boys, Beat It, The Right Stuff, Pour Some Sugar On Me, and Hey Mickey. All the students involved worked hard to make the Pep Rally successful. Spirit Club looks forward to seeing new faces for next year's big events!

The Student Council officers include President Shawna Sullivan, Vice President Liz Terranova, Treasurer Tripp Bannister, and Secretaries Molly Dodge, T.J. Kelly, and Jeff Howard. Elected class officers also represent the student body at weekly Student Council meetings and monthly meetings with Mrs. Bassett, Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. Nelson, and Mr. Noyes. The entire Student Council, comprised of both elected and non-elected members, has performed a number of community service projects throughout the year. This year, the Student Council sold long-sleeved N.A.H.S. t-shirts to students. Other events that were taken on include a Halloween costume contest, an Afghan children relief fund, and a canned food drive that benefitted Lazarus House. The Student Council thanks its advisor, Mrs. Bassett, for her appreciated mentoring and support, as well as Miss Perry for her effort this year.

The Knights football team enjoyed a very successful season with a 7-3 record, its best in almost 5 years.

Head Coach Rafferty inspired a turnaround in the program. Matt Rock burst onto the scene with tenacious running, and Will Uttley connected to tight end Justin Simmons and wide receiver Pat Turner. The defense, a strong point all season, was led by linemen Kyle Polizzotti and Keith Driscoll, and middle linebacker Jeremy Cote. With a solid core of underclassmen, the football team looks to the future with great anticipation.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Scarlet Knights field hockey team had an A+ season in 2001. Coach Freiermuth's dedication to the team brought us together like a family. Beating Triton under the lights qualified us for the state tournament, and we finished with an overall record of 9-7-3. Michelle Anderson and Christine Day had successful seasons which placed them on the All-Star team, and Lindsay Breen's unbelievable effort earned her a spot on the All-League team. These girls, along with the other senior team members, helped to create many victories as well as memories. Good luck next year!

Top scorers were captain Alicia Moulton and sophomore Katie Osgood. Both girls also qualified for individual states. The captains hope the team continues to "stay tight" in the coming years.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball team had an amazing season! With a regular season record of 18-2, the Knights captured the Cape Ann League championship title for the first time in ten years. The girls defeated Masco twice to secure the championship. This team, which consisted of two seniors, three juniors, four sophomores, and three freshmen, worked extremely hard and focused on tough defense and good team chemistry in order to win eighteen games. Coach Breen, as well as the team's two captains, couldn't be prouder of the Knights!

The 2001-2002 season was an exciting one for Knights basketball. The effort and dedication of both Coach McVeigh and his players was remarkable, and their tremendous will to win was always clear when they were on the court. Led by captains Kevin Boutilier and Kevin Tanglis, the team fought hard all season long and finished with an overall record of 12-9. Season highlights included a two-point win over Masco, a victory over Rockport in overtime, and the defeat of a very tough Wilmington team.

The 2001-2002 season also marked Coach McVeigh's 20th consecutive year of leading his team to the state tournament.

Good luck next year!

The Scarlet Knights girls' ski team had an amazing season. The entire team worked hard to meet the high level of competition and finished the season with a record of 6-3-1. A heartbreaking tie with Masco kept the girls' team from making it to states, but Colleen Sheehan's "dragon wings" took her to the tournament on her own. The girls' ski team will be without Ashley Wentworth, Carolyn Fox, and Amanda Babbitt next year, but "chairlift men" and Long John Silver's will always be present to lead these lady Knights to victory in the future.

BOYS' SKI TEAM

The ski team had a terrific 2001-2002 season. The boys tied St. John's Prep for the league championship title and, in addition, were state finalists from the North Shore Race League. The team owes much of its success to three terrific freshmen: Matt Marchegiani, Jon Wentworth, and Alex Zahoruiko. This great season would not have been possible without the leadership of Coach Marchegiani and Coach Tracey. Captains Frankie Stewart and Tripp Bannister are extremely proud of the team and wish them the best of luck for what's looking like an even better season next year.

GIRLS' INDOOR TRACK

The girls' track team had a great season and finished with a record of 4-5-1. All three captains were struck with injury before the season even began, but the team worked hard in an effort to compensate for their loss. Although the team faced tough competition in the Cape Ann League, all members kept a positive attitude and were determined to improve as the season developed. Many of the girls qualified for the state meet, and Lindsay Entsminger and Katelyn O'Toole qualified for All-States. Keep up the great work next year, girls!

The boys' indoor track team had a great 2001-2002 season. Coach Dellechiaie led the team to an 8-2 record, and everyone had a good time participating. Newcomers Ryan Tilley, Chris Pybus, Pat Turner, and C.J. Murray all performed well and were a great addition to the team.

Veterans such as Tim Roberts, Dana Burbank, Erik Alosky, and Chris Smedile all broke career records and, in some cases, school records as well.

Good luck to next year's team.

- Matt Steele

Dedication, hard work, disappointment, encouragement, strength, and trust are just a few of the words that describe the 2001-2002 season for the winter cheerleading team. This year, five seniors led the girls through a memorable season. The cheerleaders not only cheered for the basketball team, but also worked extra hard in order to prepare for their own competition at the end of the season. The team made it through many hardships and injuries, and were honored with first place at the Winter Starlight Invitational Competition. The seniors will be missed next year, but the Knights will conquer again!

A Note from the Editors...

As yearbook editors, we have dragged ourselves to school at 8:00 on Saturday mornings, we have dealt with some of the most complicated computer problems imaginable, and we have chased people down - multiple times - for their photos and write-ups. In comparison, writing this brief note to our readers should not be difficult, but we have come to find that it is actually a most arduous task. Still, we will do our best to relay our message in as few words as possible.

For the class of 2002, the last four years have been filled with moments that are gone forever but will always live on through memories. Because these memories can never really be put into words, our job was to bring together all the photographs which capture our most precious moments so that we may never forget them. We have done our best to include memories of everyone and everything that has impacted us greatly or has been special to us in some way, and we have encompassed all those photos that we know will evoke emotion, laughter, and even tears. We sincerely hope that, instead of allowing it to collect dust on your shelf, you look back often at this yearbook and upon your high school memories.

This yearbook, which is so appropriately titled "A Picture Is Worth 2002 Words," would not have been possible without the help of a vast number of people. We would first like to extend our thanks to the entire yearbook committee for their dedication and hard work. Special thanks to Michelle Anderson, Ellen Broderick, Jess Campbell, Joanna Klisiewicz, Raychel Sirois, and Emily Todd for all their additional time and effort. Thank you, also, to our advisor, Mrs. Wolf, for her guidance through the whole project.

We would also like to say thanks to the entire senior class for submitting so many wonderful pictures. Thanks, also, to all the cooperative sports team captains who took the time to write about their seasons, and to all the helpful activity advisors who submitted written work, as well.

In addition, thank you to John Dalton and Tod Workman for keeping us company during the late hours of the night and for helping us keep our room somewhat clean this year!

Finally, thank you to Mark Lawrence Photography, Josten's Publishing Company, and especially to Tom Keeley without whom this yearbook could never have been created.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Biggio, Reena Mukerjee & Jana Tarbox

The Family...

We take a look on...

Thank you for making us work so hard. We know now that you only wanted to make us better. We came into the year as a band, and thanks to you, we leave as a Marching Band. Oh, and...Go State.

To the family—thank you for being just that. You were always the ones we could rely on for a smile...

To next year's family—don't forget us. We can't be part of "the family" anymore, but you'll always be family to us.

To next year's freshmen—respect your upperclassmen. You'll be there someday.

To next year's sophomores—be nice to the freshmen. You were there once.

To next year's juniors—support your seniors. They need it and so will you.

And to next year's seniors—LIVE IT UP. Make the best of it while it lasts. Take a risk. It won't last long, so don't let it go by you.

And to Ms. Hurley—What can we say? You are the reason why we've done so well. Without you, hardly any of us would still be here. You made us what we are today. You are the life of this family and we thank you dearly for it. Your effort and teaching are what drives us to improve. You've put in so much time and energy. Believe us, it does not go unnoticed. We know how hard you work, and we greatly appreciate it. You made us, Ms. Hurley. We owe it all to you. We can't ever thank you enough. (and we'll always be Mr. Hurley's kids.)

Good luck with the rest of high school. Don't forget us. Love, The Senior Class

To Mr. Cotter—Thank you for pushing us. Thank you for making us work so hard. We know now that you only wanted to make us better. We came into the year as a band, and thanks to you, we leave as a Marching Band. Oh, and...Go State.
